
Clarification of Crysis \"Official\" Release Date

Posted by Vairo - 2007/11/04 20:50

Yesterday incrysis posted a official Crysis release date , due to the increasing number of websites and retailers posting release dates they have decided to ask Crytek personally and of course they got the answer

Due the nature of distribution it's possible that some stores in NA may get it a day or two early. Same as in some EU countries.

Officially it is still set to November 16th because that is when all stores should have the game.

Cheers,

Alexander Marschal

So, depending on where you live, you might be able to pick up your copy of Crysis a few days early!
